SecureCom Mobile Inc. Participates in the Mobile World Congress in Barcelona, Spain during the week of February 22, 2016

Vancouver, B.C., February 23, 2016 – SecureCom Mobile (“SecureCom”, “the Company”) announces they will attend the Mobile World Congress (“MWC”) in Barcelona, Spain this week February 22, 2016. MWC is an annual gathering for the mobile industry and related industries, organised by the GSMA. The event, well known as one of the largest of its kind, has a world class exhibition highlighting more than 2,100 exhibitors. The award winning conference program features leaders and visionaries such as, Mark Zuckerberg CEO of Facebook, Jonah Peretti of BuzzFeed, Ralph de la Vega CEO of AT&T mobile, Dan Schulman CEO of Paypal and many others. The four-day event, with more than 95,000 senior mobile professionals, offers SecureCom Mobile the opportunity to explore strategic partnerships with potential customers operating worldwide. Additionally, the event provides the Company the ability to showcase the Company’s latest research and technology and exchange ideas with the foremost leaders of the industry.

The WMC offers more information about the event on its website <https://www.mobileworldcongress.com>, including a complete list of exhibitors and speakers, and a live feed of the main speakers.

SecureCom Mobile takes particular interest in a study released at the MWC by Syniverse, a mobile enterprise communications company, that about 50 percent of consumers’ report that their trust in brands and mobile operators has dropped. Overall, more than 70 percent of consumers say they don’t trust mobile-related businesses to safeguard their private information. Roland Bopp, President and CEO of SecureCom Mobile comments, “The Company believes this report validates our business model regarding the need for trusted, open source, secure communication solution that consumers can trust.” For more information on the report see <http://venturebeat.com/2016/02/21/privacy-fears-causing-consumer-trust-in-mobile-services-to-plunge/>.
